1. CREDIT CARD ISSUANCE

The Credit Card is issued to a private individual – Consumer who submitted their Application for the Personal Credit Card (hereinafter: Application), who fulfils the Bank's conditions for the Credit Card issuance, and who had entered into the Agreement with the Bank and delivered the agreed security instruments.

The Applicant allows the Bank to verify any and all data given in the Application, as well as to collect any additional data that the Bank finds necessary to make the decision on the Credit Card issuance. The Bank is not obligated to justify the Decision on Rejecting Card Issuance to the Applicant.

The Credit Card is issued to the name, it is not transferrable and it is issued with a validity period of three years. The Credit Card is valid until the end of the month embossed on the Credit Card. The Credit Card of expired validity shall not be used.

The Bank delivers the PIN and the Credit Card separately, several days apart, to the address that the Credit Card Holder stated as their correspondence address. The Credit Card is delivered by registered mail.

Upon receiving the Credit Card, the Credit Card Holder shall sign it. An unsigned Credit Card is invalid, and the Credit Card Holder assumes full responsibility for the damages made due to an unauthorized person using the Credit Card in the case the unsigned Credit Card is lost or stolen.

At the Holder's request the Bank shall deactivate the contactless function to the Holder who was issued a Card with the function of contactless payment, after which the Card will no longer be fit for use in contactless payments.

2. CREDIT CARD RENEWAL

The Credit Card is renewed automatically, without any special request from the Credit Card Holder, for the period of three years, if the Credit Card Holder fulfils their obligations regularly and does not cancel the Credit Card one month before the expiry of the validity date of the current Credit Card.

The renewed Credit Card is issued to the Credit Card Holder in the month of the current Credit Card expiry. The expired Credit Card shall be destroyed and disposed of by the Credit Card Holder. The Credit Card Holder is responsible for any and all potential expenses made with the expired Credit Cards.

3. ADDITIONAL CREDIT CARD

The Holder of the Mastercard, Visa Classic and Visa Gold Credit Card can request issuance of at most two Additional Credit Cards, and the Holder of the Original Visa Platinum Credit Card can request issuance of at most three Additional Credit Cards, to the person/s they appoint. For an individual Additional Credit Card, the Holder of the Original Credit Card can limit spending to a set monthly amount. The User of the Additional Credit Card is authorised to use the card in keeping with these General Terms and Conditions. The Holder of the Original Credit Card is responsible for any and all expenses made with the Original and Additional Credit Cards. The Holder of the Original Credit Card can deny the right of use of an Additional Credit Card, of which they shall inform the User of the respective Additional Credit Card, as also the Bank in writing, and they shall return the Additional Credit Card cut in half to the Bank.

4. SPENDING LIMIT

The Spending Limit is granted in the kuna, for the period of one calendar year, from January 1 until December 31, and it is renewed for the same period automatically, if the Credit Card Holder settles their liabilities regularly. As regards the Credit Card Holder who entered into the Agreement at some point during the calendar year, i.e. accepted these General Terms and Conditions, the first Spending Limit is approved for the period from entering into the Agreement, i.e. accepting these General Terms and Conditions, until December 31 of the respective year, and after that it is renewed for the period of one calendar year successively, as above.

Card use decreases the available Spending Limit for all expenses made with the card used in accordance with these General Terms and Conditions, and payment of the spent Limit amount restores the available balance up to the amount of the granted Spending Limit. The user of the Primary Card can use the available Spending Limit amount also by transferring it to their account with the Bank, if they have contracted the Loan Agreement - Credit Card Micro Loan with the Bank (hereinafter: Micro Loan).

The primary Holder shall keep track of use of the Original and Additional Credit Cards so as not to exceed the granted Spending Limit. If the granted Spending Limit is exceeded, the Limit overrun amount is due for payment in entirety with the first following Statement.

The Bank can grant a change to the Spending Limit pursuant to a written request of the primary Holder, of which it informs them in writing.

The Holder accepts and agrees that the Bank has the right to change the Spending Limit subsequently and without any request or consent from them, if the circumstances affecting the Spending Limit amount decision change, such as the ability of the Credit Card Holder to settle their liabilities regularly, the business regularity of the Credit Card Holder, etc.

The regular interest rate on the Spending Limit is fixed during the period of a single Spending Limit validity period.

The fixed interest rate is determined under the Decision on Interest Rates of the Bank.

The valid interest rates are available to the Credit Card Holder at the Bank's branches and on the official internet site of the Bank www.rba.hr.

The Bank will notify the Credit Card Holder of the fixed interest rate in the next Spending Limit validity period in the Credit Card Statement.

Interests are calculated using the proportional method.

Default interests: in the amount of the legal default interest, variable in keeping with regulations, and calculated on all overdue and outstanding amounts, which the Holder owes on the basis of card use, save in the cases when this is forbidden as under coercive regulations.

The Holder selects the amount of the used Spending Limit they will pay, however, this shall not be less than the Minimum Amount given in the Credit Card Statement, sent to the Holder by the Bank once a month.

The Minimum Amount that the Holder is obligated to pay for the Credit Card represents 3% of the total card debt amount, that consists of: the debt amount remaining from the previous period reduced for payments made and increased for the sum of all debit transactions from the current period, which include also instalment amounts in the case of instalment purchase, and the sums of all fees from the current period. The obtained amount is increased for: a) 100% the sum of all interests (regular interest and default interest); b) the unsettled Minimum Amount from the previous period, c) total Spending Limit overrun amount and d) amount of the monthly Micro Loan annuity. The Minimum Amount can be at least HRK 150 (if total debt is less than HRK 150, the minimum amount due is equal to the total debt).

The Holder shall make the payment by the maturity date given on the Credit Card Statement at the latest by executing the payment to the Bank's account or/and by contracting a direct debit for their current or FCY account¹ with the Bank (as stated by the Holder in the Application). If the maturity date is not a working day, the Holder shall make the payment on the last working day before the maturity date at the latest.

Cash withdrawal is allowed within the scope of the limit prescribed by the Bank.

The regular interest rate is calculated for every individual loan amount used by way of the credit card, from the respective transaction date until the date of forming the first following Statement. From the date of forming the Statement until the payment date the regular interest rate is calculated for total debt amount as on the Statement (the monthly Micro Loan annuity and purchases by instalments are not subject to the regular interest rate), reduced for the unpaid interests from the previous period, and if the Holder paid any amount after the forming of the Statement, from the respective payment date the interest is calculated for the remaining outstanding debt amount.

¹In the case of payments for expenses made through direct debit from an FCY account, the debt amount from the Credit Card Statement will be converted into foreign currency at the Bank's buy exchange rate as on the date of debt maturity.

If the Holder pays an amount lower than the Minimum Amount on the Statement, the paid amount will be used to settle the interests first (regular interest+default interest), and the remaining paid amount will be used to settle the remaining total principal debt.

The Holder can, at any time, make an early payment of the debt on the Statement, without any fees charged.

If the Holder pays the total debt amount on the Statement by the maturity date, the Bank does not charge any regular interest.

The Bank does not calculate and it does not pay any interest for an early paid amount or for surplus payment with regard to the total debt.

The amount of the calculated interest is shown in the Statement.

For justified reasons the Bank can terminate a Card Holder's right to use an unused portion of the Spending Limit.

Justified reasons shall be deemed the following especially:

- existing justified suspicion of unauthorised use of the credit card and/or loan;
- existing justified suspicion of card- and/or loan-related fraud;
- if other circumstances have occurred or threaten to occur, for which the Bank can assume reasonably that these may have an adverse impact on the Holder's ability to fulfil their obligations regularly;
- if the Holder does not execute or defaults in executing payment for any liabilities in whatever business relationship with the Bank;
- if two successive monthly Minimum Amounts given in the Credit Card Statement were not settled regularly;
- if the Holder spends more than the Spending Limit, except if provided with the Bank's consent;
- in the case of the Holder violating any contractual undertaking;
- if the Holder fails to adhere to regulations applicable to this or any other business relationship between the Holder and the Bank;
- if the Holder, by their business activities, ruins the Bank's reputation;
- if the Holder acts contrary to the coercive regulations of the RH and social morals.

The Bank will notify the Holder of terminating the rights from the above item and the reasons for their termination in writing or in any other agreed manner, when possible, before the termination itself, and immediately after the termination at the latest, when notification thereof is contrary to special regulations.

The Bank is authorized to revoke, in part or in entirety, the unused portion of the Spending Limit unconditionally and without any previous announcement.

The Bank is authorized to collect the overdue and outstanding liabilities through the received security instruments, in which it is authorized to select the security instrument and the collection order by itself, as well as through set-off of receivables against the Holder's receivables that they have towards the Bank in any kuna or FCY account held with the Bank, without any special collection notice.

5. USING THE CREDIT CARD AND THE GRANTED SPENDING LIMIT

- in sales venues that accept the Card without the PIN being entered or without the signature, such as contactless payment, toll payments and the like, the consent for a payment transaction execution is given by the very use of the Card in the manner as required by the respective sales venue, such as e.g. handing the card to the sales venue or swiping the card against the EFT POS tool. The payment transaction for which the Credit Card Holder gave their consent in one of the above manners is deemed an authorized payment transaction.

After a payment transaction is authorized, the Credit Card Holder cannot revoke it.

The Bank has the authority to reject the execution of a payment order initiated by the Card in the case where the Card is used contrary to these General Terms and Conditions, such as e.g. overrun of the granted spending limit. The Card User shall be notified of the rejected payment order execution immediately, and the information on the underlying reasons for rejection and on the procedure to amend the errors that caused the rejection will be available to them at the Bank's Branches or by calling 072626262.

In that case the amount of the executed payment transaction is paid by the Card Holder to the Bank in equal monthly instalments, at zero interests. The number of instalments is from two to twenty-four. The Bank declares the monthly instalments in the regular monthly Statements, and the Card Holder pays them in keeping with the provisions of item 4 of these General Terms and Conditions.

The subject of an instalment purchase cannot be transactions of less than HRK 300.00, or EUR 40 for transactions made abroad, and transactions of cash withdrawal at ATMs, regardless of the amount.

The Card Holder can request instalment purchase:

1. before executing a transaction, when buying at sales venues with whom the Bank had contracted the agreement on the option of payment in instalments, when the Card Holder agrees also the wished number of instalments, or
2. after executing a transaction, by way of the instalment payment request for the expense made, which request is placed with the Bank through the RBA iDIREKT service, the application RBA na dlanu or by a telephone call to the Call Centre of the Bank, in which request the Card Holder selects also the number of instalments.

The Card Holder who placed the request by a telephone call to the Bank Call Centre will be identified by the Bank, and to that effect the Card Holder shall provide any and all required information. If the Bank is unable to identify the Card Holder, it is authorised to reject the instalment payment request. The Card Holder is aware of and agrees that the Bank records telephone calls of the Call Centre, and that in the case of any dispute between the Credit Card Holder and the Bank, any such recorded calls can be used as evidence.

The Card Holder's placing of the request from item 2 herein is subject to a one-off fee in the amount as defined under the Decision on Service Fees of the Bank.
