The Decision on Granting Client's Spending Limit, as well as the Decision on Limit Renewal, is made by the Bank without any obligation to justify its decision to the applicant.

The granted Client's Spending Limit is defined under the Agreement, and the Client defines the distribution of it to Card User's Spending Limits by the Supplement 1 to the Agreement.

The Client's Spending Limit is granted in the kuna, for the period of up to one, or two years, as set under the Agreement. The Limit use begins from the month of the first Credit Card issuance provided all agreed conditions were fulfilled by the Client.

If the Client does not cancel the Spending Limit two months before the expiry of the current Spending Limit, fulfils their obligations towards the Bank duly, and if they delivered the required documentation at the Bank's request, the Bank's assessment of which documentation found no deterioration in the Client's financial standing, the Client's

Before the expiry date embossed on the Credit Card, without any special request from the Client, the Bank issues a new Credit Card with a two-year validity, if the Client fulfils their obligations towards the Bank duly and does not cancel the Credit Card one month before the expiry of the current Credit Card. The Bank delivers the new Credit Card to the Contact Person by registered mail to the Client's address as under the valid Supplement 1 in the month of the expiry date of the current Credit Card. The expired Credit Card shall be destroyed and disposed of by the Card User. The Client assumes full responsibility for any and all potential expenses made with the expired Credit Cards.

The Client shall notify the Bank of any change in the correspondence address for the Credit Card Statement delivery in writing. Otherwise, any and all Credit Card Statements and other letters sent to the Client to the last address known to the Bank shall be deemed received.

The Client selects the amount of the used Spending Limit that they will pay, but this amount shall not be less than the Minimum Amount Due in the Statement.

The Minimum Amount Due that the Client will pay represents 3% of the Client's used Spending Limit, not less than HRK 400.00. The Client's used Spending Limit includes the amount of the outstanding debt from the previous billing cycle reduced for any and all payments made and increased for the sum of all debit transactions in the current billing cycle, and the sum of all fees for the current billing cycle. The Minimum Amount Due is increased for the following: a) 100% of the sum of all interests (regular interest, and default interest), b) the outstanding Minimum Amount Due from the previous billing cycle, and c) total Spending Limit override amount.

The Client shall make the repayment until the maturity date given on the Statement at the latest by paying to the Bank's account and/or by contracting direct debit for the transaction account with the Bank as under the Agreement. If the maturity date is not a working day, the Client shall make the payment on the last working day before the maturity date at the latest. When repaying the expenses made by direct debit to an FX account, the debt amount on the Statement is converted to the FX at the Bank's buy rate as on the debt maturity date.

The Client can, at any time, make an early repayment of the debt on the Statement, without any fees charged. If the Client repays the total debt amount on the Statement by the maturity date, the Bank does not charge any regular interest.

An exception are the cash withdrawal transactions in the Bank's and outside the Bank's ATM and business network, for which amount the fee is charged from the withdrawal date until the Statement date. The Bank does not calculate and it does not pay any interests for an early repaid amount or for any surplus payment with regard to the total debt. The amount of the calculated interests is declared in the Statement.

6. INTEREST RATE

The regular interest rate is calculated for every individual debt amount used by using the Credit Card, from the respective transaction date until the date of forming the first following Statement. From the date of forming the Statement until the payment date the regular interest rate is calculated for total debt amount as on the Statement, reduced for the unpaid interests from the previous billing cycle, and if the Client repaid any amount after the forming of the Statement, from the respective repayment date the interest is calculated for the remaining outstanding debt amount.

If the Client repays an amount lower than the Minimum Amount on the Statement, the repaid amount will be used to settle the interests first (regular interest, default interest), and the remaining repaid amount will be used to settle the remaining total principal debt.

The regular interests are calculated using the proportional method.

The regular interest rate is determined under the Decision on Business Mastercard Credit Card Interest Rates of the Bank.

The default interests are charged in the amount of the legal default interest, variable in keeping with regulations, and calculated on all overdue and outstanding amounts, which the Client owes on the basis of card use, save in the cases when this is forbidden as under coercive regulations.

The Bank does not calculate and it does not pay any interests for an early repaid amount or for any surplus payment with regard to the total debt.

The payment transaction for which the Card User gave their consent in one of the above manners is deemed an authorized payment transaction, and it is deemed that the execution instruction for any such authorized payment transaction is given by the Card User. The executed payment transaction is deemed to be authorized and that the Bank acted with due care until the Client/ Card User prove otherwise. After a payment transaction is authorized, the Card User cannot revoke it.

The Bank is authorized to refuse execution of a payment order initiated with the card in the event the card is used in a manner contrary to these General Terms and Conditions, such as e.g. granted Spending Limit override.
